GOVERNMENT WINS DOHENY OIL CASE

SAMUEL INSULL CRINGES FROM ADVERSE POLITICAL PUBLICITY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—"I'm finished with national politics. I never give another cent to a senatorial campaign. I won't go through this sort of thing again—not for anything in the world."

With these words, Samuel Insull, public utility czar, announced his withdrawal from the role of a "super-angel" for Illinois senatorial campaigns.

The business and political world watched Insull as the great campaign fund committee prepared a resolution giving him to the senate for contempt because he refused to reveal some of the details of his $257,000 contribution to the last Illinois campaign.

What Kind of a Man?

Millions of Americans have wondered what manner of man Insull may be, who spends $257,000 to influence a single election—who tells a senate committee, quietly, frankly and with a smile, that he gave $128,000 to one senatorial candidate, scattered tens of thousands of dollars to other candidates, Republican and Democratic, but finally refused—still with a smile—to reveal the names of those who received the $200,000 left.

Statesmen, politicians and ordinary citizens have looked upon these contributions with a suspicious eye. They have thought Insull, not satisfied with becoming to the public utility world what Rockefeller is to oil, yearned to extend his dominion over the field of American politics.

Reveals His Reasons

To National News Service, Insull revealed his reason for taking a financial interest in the Illinois election. He simply has never his conscience were "a duty"—a necessary duty in his guardianship of well over a billion dollars invested in the public utility under his control. He sleeps with an easy conscience and he feels that to have ignored the local elections in Illinois would have made him faithless to the trust imposed in him. The investments in his care, he estimated, totaled more than the value of all Henry Ford's properties.

"I interested myself in the Illinois senatorial campaign because I was earnestly opposed to the World Court. I supported the candidates who declared against American adherence. I opposed the candidate who had tried to put America in the court. It was a personal matter."

Sees It As Duty

"I have to take an interest in local politics. I am here to safeguard the $1,250,000,000 invested in the companies under my supervision. I have to do it to be faithful to my trust. If I didn't I wouldn't be here. I have that responsibility and I must face it."

The investments which Insull must protect have a right to be protected and they are consistently threatened by local politics.

It was for this reason, Insull said, that he contributed heavily to the Chicago and statewide elections in the last Illinois election.

Insull has an engaging personality. His frank smile reveals a business man that not even his coarseness in the business world can mar. He is sensitive. The public, upon this followed his campaign contributions, has awarded his pride. His efforts more from this adverse publicity than the average citizen would imagine. The Insulls have been a proud family. In England—he is an Englishman by birth—the Insulls have played a part in British politics.

SUPREME COURT RULES LEASES WERE ILLEGAL

Judicial Decision Adds That Contracts Were Obtained Through Fraudulent Acts

FALL IS ACCUSED

Eventual Victory of U. S. in Teapot Dome Case Seen by Experts

Washington, Feb. 28.—The government today won its long fight to cancel the leases obtained by oil companies of Edward L. Doheny on the Elk Hills, California, Naval Oil Reserve on the ground that the leases were illegal and obtained through the fraudulent acts of the former secretary, Albert B. Fall.

It was the first of the big "oil scandal" cases of the Harding administration to reach the supreme court. The decision was read by Justice Butler.

The government won a complete victory before the ninth district court of appeals on Jan. 4, 1926.

The victory for the government was complete. Not only did the supreme court cancel the Elk Hills leases, but it also denied to Doheny's companies the nearly $15,000,000 they claimed to have expended in fulfillment of the contract for which they demanded reimbursement.

The Doheny companies were awarded this reimbursement in the original federal court decision, but it was later denied by the U. S. Court of Appeals at San Francisco, and the supreme court upheld the latter decision.

Decision Regarded by Many

The decision was regarded by many legal experts as foreshadowing eventual victory for the government in the Teapot Dome lease case. The equity phases of the two contracts held by Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair are approximately the same. The Teapot case is now pending in the court.

The evidence, Justice Butler said, was conclusive that the contracts were obtained by fraud.

The court found that after the navy department requested Fall to make the leases in dominated the making of the contracts.

Fall and Admiral Robinson, Justice Butler said, conspired to give Doheny's companies the contracts. He traced the correspondence between the pair and Doheny.

JUMPS FROM SPEEDING TRAIN

RECAPTURE MAN AFTER DARING LEAP FROM CAR

Alliance Youth Plunges from Big Four Passenger Enroute to Reformatory

Fred Bankard, 20, of Alliance, is again in the hands of the police after he leaped from a speeding train near Bellefontaine in an effort to obtain his freedom.

Today, Mansfield officers stopped in Marion while en route home with the prisoner, who had been recaptured at Zanesville, Logan County, and who had only a few cuts and bruises as the result of his daring plunge from the train.

The leap for liberty occurred early last night while Police Captain William Lauer of Mansfield, was bringing Bankard back from Hot Springs, Ark., where the youth had been taken into custody on automobile theft and forgery charges.

The plunge was made from a window of the toilet room in the railway coach in which Bankard had gone and while Captain Lauer was on guard outside the door.

Taking no chances with his prisoner, who had escaped from Mansfield police on a former occasion, Lauer had placed his foot against the door to prevent Bankard from closing and locking it. The precaution would probably have been effective had the train not lurched suddenly, throwing the officer off his balance and causing him to miss his fall. The door slammed shut and he locked himself in, giving Bankard his chance for escape.

The train, according to Lauer, was traveling about 50 miles an hour at the time and had reached a point a short distance east of Bellefontaine. The train was eastbound No. 16, one of the speediest on this division of the Big Four.

Refuses To Stop Train

Lauer claims that he reported the escape to the conductor, who refused to stop the train. The officer then went on to Marion, where he telephoned headquarters at Mansfield and requested that an officer be sent here with an Officer Hildebrand of the Mansfield department arrived here shortly before midnight in a police car and accompanied Lauer to Logan County, where, within a few hours culminated in the capture of Bankard at Zanesville early this morning.

The two officers and their prisoner stopped here this morning for lunch and after remaining here about an hour, continued their trip to Mansfield. Bankard was locked in the city prison during his stop-over here.

COOLIDGE IS ANXIOUS TO NAME RADIO BOARD

Fans Are To Know "Czars" of Industry Within Next 48 Hours

Washington, Feb. 28.—The millions of citizens who nightly tune in on the ether will learn within the next 48 hours, the identities of the five federal czars of the air who will undertake to clean up and clear up the radio industry. It was indicated today.

President Coolidge, it was stated at the White House, is anxious to appoint his radio commission, created under the Dill-White Act, in time for congress to give confirmation. Over the week-end he is said to have eliminated most of the thousands names submitted so that, today, his choice lies from about 40.

Lerine L. Leacock, retiring administration senator from Wisconsin, has been mentioned most prominently as chairman of the commission. The post probably is at Leacock's disposal, for it is well-known that Mr. Coolidge intends to give some choice piece of patronage to his devoted supporter.

In the first zone, embracing New York, New Jersey, and New England, O. H. Caldwell, editor of Radio Retailing, is reported to have the backing of Secretary of Commerce Hoover. There is also backing for Robert A. Marriott and L. S. Baker, both of New York.

There are numerous candidates from the second zone, which takes in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia, and little line could be obtained as to Mr. Coolidge's preference. Rep. Frank D. Scott, retiring congressman from Michigan, is a candidate.

During the sympathetic discussion of Chaplin's marital difficulties members took occasion to denounce the "tyranny and selfishness of modern women."

SOLONS TO HEAR PLANS TO AMEND CONSTITUTION

Three Proposals Before Ohio Senate and House at Tonight's Session

Columbus, Feb. 28.—Three proposals to amend the Ohio Constitution next November are scheduled to be considered by the members of the Ohio Senate and House when the solons reconvene here tonight, following their weekend recess.

These proposals are embodied in joint resolutions, two in the house, dealing with taxation and one in the senate, providing for dispensing with the formalities of a grand jury in certain cases.

The house joint resolutions are those by Rep. E. H. Kreuger, Cleveland, proposing to amend Article 12, Section 2, of the state constitution, so as to provide for taxation by uniform rule of all real estate and tangible property, except motor vehicles, and to permit taxation of intangible property, including all moneys, credits, bonds, stocks, in such manner as may be prescribed by law; and by Rep. John A. Hadden, also of Cleveland, proposing to amend the same section so as "to provide for the equitable taxation of property."

The Hadden resolution declares that "the power of taxation shall never be surrendered, suspended, or contracted away" and that any property may, by general laws, be exempted from taxation.

The joint resolution up for consideration in the senate tonight is that submitted by Sen. Davis Johnson, Fulton County, seeking to amend Article 1, Section 10, of the Ohio Constitution, by providing that "when a person charged with an offense waives his right to a grand jury investigation such person may be held on information filed in the proper court and such information shall stand in lieu of, and answer all the purposes of, an indictment, or presentment, returned by a grand jury."

GREAT BRITAIN ACCEPTS ARMS CONFERENCE BID

Brief Note Makes Reservation for England's Particular Needs

Washington, Feb. 28.—Great Britain today accepted President Coolidge's invitation to a new disarmament conference.

In a note, remarkable for its brevity, the British foreign office informed the American government that it is willing to engage in a conference along the lines suggested by President Coolidge—but made the reservation that Britain's peculiar needs and position must be taken into consideration.

The British acceptance had been expected. Coming as it does, however, after both France and Italy have rejected the invitation it will avail but little so far as an actual conference is concerned.

The reservation attached by the British has reference to cruiser strength. It is the position of the British admiralty that the far-flung British Empire, stretching clear around the world, makes necessary the maintenance of a large cruiser force for protection of trade routes, lines of communication, etc. It is the British contention that this need is peculiar to Britain, and that none of the other powers is confronted with exactly the same problem.

BORAH'S RESOLUTION ON SENATORIAL BATTLE LIST

Administration Senators Fill-buster Threat May Enliven Session's End

Washington, Feb. 28.—A spectacular fight on Senator Borah's proposed investigation in Mexico and Central America appeared certain today to enliven the closing days of congress.

Called to modify the scope of his investigation, as reported Saturday, by confining it to Washington, instead of going to Mexico and Nicaragua, Borah still faced today a stiff fight. His resolution was backed by a 10 to eight vote in the foreign relations committee, but administration senators have threatened to filibuster against it if necessary to defeat it. They consider the investigation aimed at Secretary of State Kellogg, and assert it would embarrass the president.

Senator Borah, it was reported today, has attempted to reconcile the conflicting claims made by the American state department and the Mexican foreign office concerning the oil law by communicating directly with President Calles. The state department claims only a small fraction of the oil companies have accepted the conditions imposed by the new laws; the Mexican foreign office claims a great majority have accepted.

Why are there so many charming women today?

NEVER before have there been so many charming women.

Wherever you go, you find them. Vivacious, happy, beautiful, delightfully dressed in the most exquisite taste.

Clear, pink-and-white complexion, luxurious, well-kept hair, gleaming teeth, trim athletic carriage—these are almost universal characteristics of American women of today.

Why? At first thought it may sound absurd, but one of the most powerful teachers has been advertising.

Advertising has helped to teach us all that the real basis of beauty is health and cleanliness. We are the greatest users of soap and water in the world.

Advertising has taught us how to care for our teeth, our hair, our feet, our hands and our complexions.

Advertising has taught us how to dress—how to choose colors and fabrics and becoming styles.

Advertising has taught us how to talk, how to entertain.

One reason why so many women are charming is because so many women are reading advertising. From advertising they are learning the secrets of great beauty specialists. They are getting health information of inestimable value. They are learning the secrets of becoming dress from the famous designers of Paris and New York.

Advertising is one of the biggest reasons why so many women are so charming. Read advertising regularly.

Marion Man Predicts Sugar Made from Artichoke Will Become National Industry

H. Allen, 428 S. State-st. Considered Authority on Product, Receives Sample Made from Weed; Claims High Quality Possible

When the manufacture of sugar from the artichoke, a plant which now grows in land in Marion County and other sections of Ohio and is regarded by many farmers as a weed, will become a nationwide industry in time, it will be made today by H. Allen, of 428 S. State-st., who is known throughout the country as an authority on sugar production.

Mr. Allen, who is president of the Farmers Sugar Co. of Allentown, Pa., received from the United States Bureau of Standards in Washington a sample of sugar made from artichokes. Sugar samples were sent to a number of sugar industry leaders in various parts of the country to show that a high class product is possible from this plant which has hitherto been regarded as possessing comparatively little commercial value.

The sugar that has just been made from the artichoke is the result of years of work and research on have considered of little account. It can be grown in this country in great quantities, in fact it is looked upon by many farmers as a weed and they would hesitate to introduce it as a crop for that reason, but it produces the finest sugar of commerce.

Much Sweeter

"Artichoke sugar is one and a half times as sweet as the common sugar produced from beets or cane. It is in direct contrast to cane sugar, which is only half as sweet as sucrose, the correct name for sugar made from beets or cane.

"Artichoke sugar as I receive, as it should be called, formerly cost $10.00 a pound to make, but through years of effort and work on the part of the Bureau of Standards under the able management of Dr. Burgess and the investigations of Dr. Frederick Bates, who has charge of the sugar division, they have worked out a method of producing this sugar at about the cost of making beet or cane sugar. Although the manufacturing of chemical and has been practically finished, the agricultural end has not been touched.

"Before Marion County can take advantage of this splendid work of the Bureau of Standards, practical investigations on the agricultural side will have to be made," Mr. Allen stated. "The first question to be answered is 'Will the farmers grow the artichoke?' That is uncertain, as farmers are like other persons, reluctant to experiment. A man who owns a farm has his living to make, his taxes to meet, and if there is a mortgage on the land, he must pay, his children to educate, just as the man who owns a store in town, and like him he is just as loath to use what capital he has in experimenting on something new.

Takes Several Years

"From my experience in trying to introduce beet sugar production in Northwestern Ohio I would say it would take several years to answer this question."

"Then again," continued Mr. Allen, "in order to produce sugar from artichokes it will be necessary to have a factory. Such a factory will cost not less than one million to two million dollars to build and here again a rough up against an obstacle. In the congress passed laws that protect sugar produced in Cuba.

"This sugar is produced in Cuba, and it is a fact that the production of sugar from our own farms but built up an enormous business in Cuba. Over one billion dollars went out of this country alone into the sugar business of Cuba. Capitalists are there ready to make large investments in sugar factories in this country with this large competition staring them in the face."

"Last year we ate 6,350,000 tons of sugar. Of this Cuba furnished 2,700,000. Cuba, however, produces 5,000,000 tons of sugar and had to sell outside the United States 1,200,000 tons. None of the civilized countries, except the United States and England, will buy any of Cuba's sugar less than 10 cents a pound. The production of sugar from beets is too profitable to them, they can not afford to do so.

English Error

"Lately England has been the error of her policy and is refusing to buy Cuba's sugar. She put a protective

Ohio Overrun With Wolves 125 Years Ago, Old Geography Owned Here Shows

City officials and visitors at the local university were given an opportunity today to study geography as it was taught in the public schools of the United States 125 years ago.

The opportunity was provided by City Engineer T. S. Calhoun, who brought to the City Hall a copy of a geography text book which was compiled in 1795 and used in the schools for more than two decades following that date.

The book, remarkably well preserved, is now the property of Mr. Calhoun, having come down to him from his grandfather, who also was his school teacher. The book is a copy of a geography text book which was compiled in 1795 and used in the schools

Few Originals

There are said to be few original copies of school text books used in those pioneer days which are still in existence so that the one owned by Mr. Calhoun could probably be sold for a substantial sum to a book collector. He states, however, that it is not for sale but will be retained as a family heirloom.

Although the covers of the book are gone, the pages remain intact with the printing clear and distinct throughout. There are no illustrations or maps, these helpful features not being found in school books until some time after this ancient volume was published.

Although every country in the world and all sections of the United States are included in the text, attention of those who have been reading the book at the City offices has been centered especially on the part which refers to Ohio.

Counties

At that time there were only 10 counties in the state and the four principal "settlements" were Sandusky, Marietta, Cincinnati and Chillicothe. The seat of government was in Chillicothe and the population of the state was given as 40,000.

The author of the geography reports that animal life in the state consisted chiefly of "deer, wild cattle, wolves, catamounts, and foxes" and that "various other kinds of wild game with which the northern part of the United States abound are found here in vast numbers and turkeys, geese, ducks, swans, teal, pheasants and partridges are very numerous."

Counties Then

The counties into which the state was then divided were Hamilton, Fairfield, Clermont, Muskingum, Washington, Adams, Warren, Gallia, Highland, Scioto, Athens, Butler, Geauga, Jefferson, and Stark.

SCHMIDT DRUG STORE MOVED AFTER 18 YEARS

D. A. Schulte Co. To Occupy Corner Rooms with Chain Cigar Establishment

The Charles Schmidt drug store, located in the George D. Copeland building at the corner of Center and Main streets during the last 18 years, was moved today to 140 S. Main street in the "Terrace" Zimmerman building, which Mr. Schmidt recently leased.

The D. A. Schulte Co. of New York City will open one of its chain cigar and tobacco stores in the room vacated by Mr. Schmidt. Although the Schulte lease does not start until April 1, the company will take possession of the Copeland room at once and begin extensive remodeling for which plans were completed some time ago. The Schulte store will probably open about April 1.

Included in the changes and improvements to be made by the Schulte Co. will be installation of a new front on Main street and show windows along the entire length of the room on Center street. The company expects to spend approximately $10,000 in the improvement work.

One of Largest

The Schulte Company, one of the two largest chain cigar stores operating in this country, leased the Copeland room for a period of 10 years.

The room at 140 S. Main, into which the Schmidt store is moving, will be redecorated throughout. Mr. Schmidt leased the entire building for five years and will rent the upstairs rooms for residence use.

The Sugar Bowl, a confectionery store formerly operated in the room taken over by Mr. Schmidt, is now located on E. Church-st. between Main and State-sts.

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice B. Altherr, wife of Frank J. Altherr, 418 Atwood-st., who died Saturday morning following a four-year illness of diabetes will be held at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Mary's Catholic Church. Rev. F. X. Cotter, pastor, will officiate and burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. In the account of Mrs. Altherr's death in Saturday night's Star, the name of her son was given as Clarence Adams in place of Clarence Altherr.

son, Green, Trumbull, Columbus, Champaign, Ross, Montgomery and Miami.

This geography was compiled by Nathaniel Daggett, a New England settler, who stated in his preface that he had intended to assemble the material and publish it in clear and concise form because of the urgent need of a text book which would serve for school use, especially in the teaching of younger children.

That the book was popular and put to good use is shown in an announcement that several editions came from the press, beginning with the first edition in 1795. The copy owned by Mr. Calhoun was printed in 1811.

New York City's population at that time was estimated at 20,000.

SAYS GOVERNMENT WONT DISMISS HIM FROM ARMY

Timmerman, Chaplain of O. S. U. Fraternity, Opposes Compulsory Drill

Columbus, Feb. 26.—The United States government will never dismiss me as an officer in the reserve officers' training corps merely because I oppose compulsory drill at Ohio State University, declared Capt. Donald Timmerman of the R. O. T. C. at the King Avenue Methodist Church here last night.

Captain Timmerman backed his statement by reading portions of a pamphlet distributed recently by the National Bureau of Army Chaplains. The pamphlet declared: "It is not and never has been the policy of the war department to interfere with the expressions or actions of reserve corps officers."

Timmerman was recommended for dismissal by Col. A. M. Shipps, commander of the R. O. T. C. at Ohio State, who charged him with "malicious statements against the government." Timmerman is not a student but was chairman of the Ohio Chapter of the Scabbard and Blade, an anti-militaristic fraternity.

According to Colonel Shipps, Timmerman declared before a mass meeting of the optional drill league on the University campus recently: "I do not believe military training should be compulsory at state universities."

Following this statement, Colonel Shipps recommended to the corps and officers at Fort Hayes, here, that Captain Timmerman be dismissed. A committee of four army reserve officers, who have been named to investigate the charges

Federals and Rebels in Minor Fights During Week-End

Mexico, City, Feb. 26.—Nearly 50 persons, the majority of whom were rebels, were slain in a number of minor clashes between federal forces and rebel bands during the week-end, according to figures received at the war department today.

Twenty-four rebels and seven federals, including Colonel Martinez, were slain in an encounter near Corroto, Coahuila.

Nine farmers were killed at Suchitlan, Oaxaca, when they resisted a band of 30 rebels who raided the town, burning the town hall.

An American seaman, at Acapulco, Jalisco, was kidnapped and held for $500 ransom by a band of 50 bandits. One farmer was killed in the fighting. Thirty-five Yaqui women and children were captured by federal troops in a series of raids in the Yaqui zone.

Reed Keeps Fires Stoked Under Fund Investigations

"Slush" Stews To Be Served "Piping Hot" When Congress Convenes

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Chief Jim Reed of Missouri wants to keep the fire well stoked, during the next nine months, under the senatorial "slush fund" stews he has had simmering, ever since early last summer, in readiness to serve piping hot when congress meets Dec. 9.

This was one of the reasons for the reactions against Reed's investigating committee to proceed with its work after the sixty-ninth congress' expiration in March.

Another reason was that the committee has stirred the stews, and flavored and pepped them up, mainly during recess and at odd times, and Senator Jim Reed can turn out a more toothsome job if permitted to give his full undivided attention to it, as he is able to do between sessions.

BESIDES, the Missouri senator's is a position now to go after some talky witnesses for contempt.

Still, if the senator and his fellow committeemen had tried hard, they might have had their slush fund stews at a cooked by now, and ready to be served until the 70th congress convenes.

That, however, was exactly what Senator Reed was anxious to avoid. He was opposed to digging out any cold or neglected stews. His idea was to have a hot lot to send the next session's worth and make it spit Col. Frank L. Smith of Illinois and William S. Vare of Pennsylvania, and maybe Arthur H. Gould of Maine right out, and gargle its throat to ease the pain.

DROPPING culinary metaphor, the four witnesses Reed proposed to dig for contempt, because of their refusal to answer questions earlier in the investigation, were Samuel H. Jones, Daniel J. Schuyler and Judge Robert H. Cowley of Chicago and Thomas W. Cunningham of Philadelphia.

Indiscreetly, the multimillionaire Illinois public utilities magnate who contributed $25,000 to Col. Smith's senatorial campaign and a lot of money to other candidates.

Schuyler's law lawyer.

Cowley's activities were confined to Chicago's best politics.

Cunningham, who had $50,000 in William S. Vare's campaign fund and would tell where he got it, when stamps the investigators, inasmuch as they are sure he knows that much of his own and still surer he wouldn't have let go of it if he had.

COWLEY, at recent hearings, flung the state as a contempt possibility. Insult and Schuyler were at least polite to the committee. They told part of what the investigators wanted to know and they were sorry they couldn't tell the rest. Reed intimated that they'd better be, and some observers think they'll weaken yet.

But not Cunningham. He's the hard boiled egg. A bulky man, with a full, impassive face and deep-set eyes which stray everywhere. "Fast" answer has been his stock reply to every question Reed's asked thus far. As a suitable subject for contempt proceedings, Reed holds great hopes on Thomas W. Cunningham.

THE Gould case, from Maine, isn't considered so good.

Reed's fully satisfied with his Smith and his Vare stews, but how the Gould concoction will turn out he doesn't pretend to say as yet. It's an experiment.

BOODIES OF FLIERS TO BE SENT BACK TO U. S.

Funeral Services Held at Buenos Ayres; Full Military Honors at Rites

Buenos Ayres, Feb. 26.—With full military honors, funeral services were being held today for Capt. Clinton F. Woolsey and Lieut. John E. Bennett, American army good will fliers who were killed here Saturday in an aerial collision.

Later this afternoon the bodies will be placed on board the liner Yabuan for transportation to the United States for burial.

The funeral services were the occasion for tributes from all Argentina and the diplomatic corps was well represented.

Prior to the funeral services the bodies of the two aviators had been in state in the Military Club, and were almost buried under floral tributes.

Major Herbert Dargue and Lieut. Thompson, who saved their lives in Saturday's crash by jumping from their plane with their parachutes, were among those who paid last tributes to their flying comrades and then turned their thoughts to duty.

The tragedy of Saturday will not delay the flight of the good will fliers. Tomorrow the St. Louis and San Francisco will continue their flight from Buenos Ayres to Chile. The San Antonio now in Chile is doing its utmost to catch up and join the flight at the nearest point.

An inquiry is being held into Saturday's accident and a full report will be given to the war department.

PAUL BUSH HEARING IS SCHEDULED FOR TUESDAY

Charged with Obtaining Property Under False Pretenses; Involves Auto

Paul Bush, who resides southwest of Caledonia in Morrow County, will be given a hearing in the local Municipal Court, Tuesday afternoon, on a charge of obtaining personal property under false pretenses, placed against him by L. D. Jones, Marion automobile dealer.

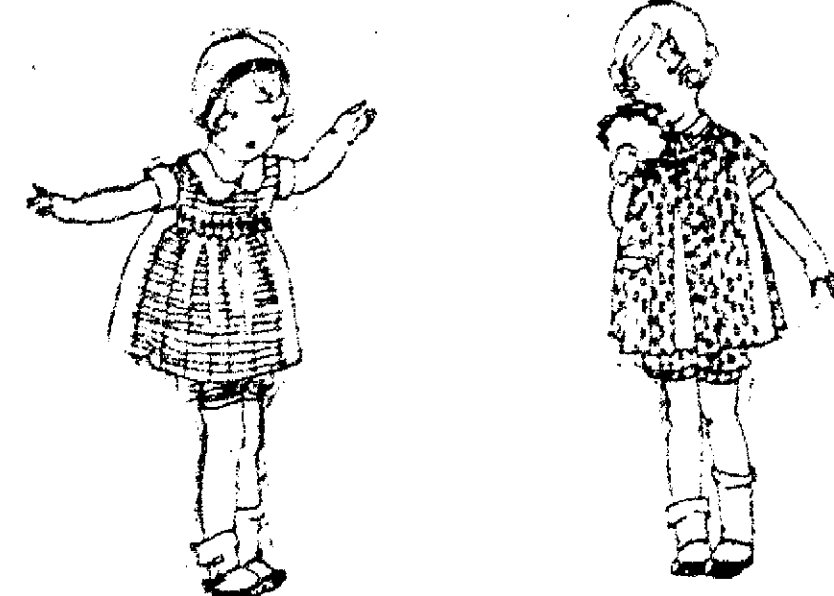

The case is the outcome of the purchase of an automobile by Bush, who is reported to be a minor. Jones alleges that when the young man signed the purchase contract, he represented that he was over 21 years of age. Difficulties over collection of payment installments developed and resulted in Jones filing an affidavit against Bush.

The young man pleaded not guilty when taken before Municipal Judge Marsh, Saturday, and was released on a $1,000 bond.

SAYS PLANS IN BUILDING BILL ARE UNLAWFUL

Attorney General Turner Rules on State Office Measure in House

Columbus, Feb. 25.—Attorney General C. Turner today ruled that the plan in the Ohio House of Representatives, providing for use of the Ohio Workmen's Compensation Fund in building the proposed new state office building, is unconstitutional.

"The state," Turner ruled, "through its officials, is a trustee for each of these funds." Turner said a principle of law, or equity, prohibits a trustee from using trust funds for his own benefit. "There is no exception of this rule in favor of the state," said Turner.

"I am of the opinion that the courts of this state would either compel or permit the State Industrial Commission or the State Teachers' Retirement Board to expend their respective funds in the erection of a state office building because:

(1) No valid assurance of a return of either the income, or principal could be made on behalf of the state.

(2) The investment of a large portion of an insurance reserve in any single building is an unsound practice.

(3) The proposed building would be a single purpose building not adapted to produce revenue from any source other than the state," continued Turner. "If some succeeding legislature did not see fit to continue to lease the building, or to purchase it, the particular fund would have on its hand an excellent example of a 'white elephant'."

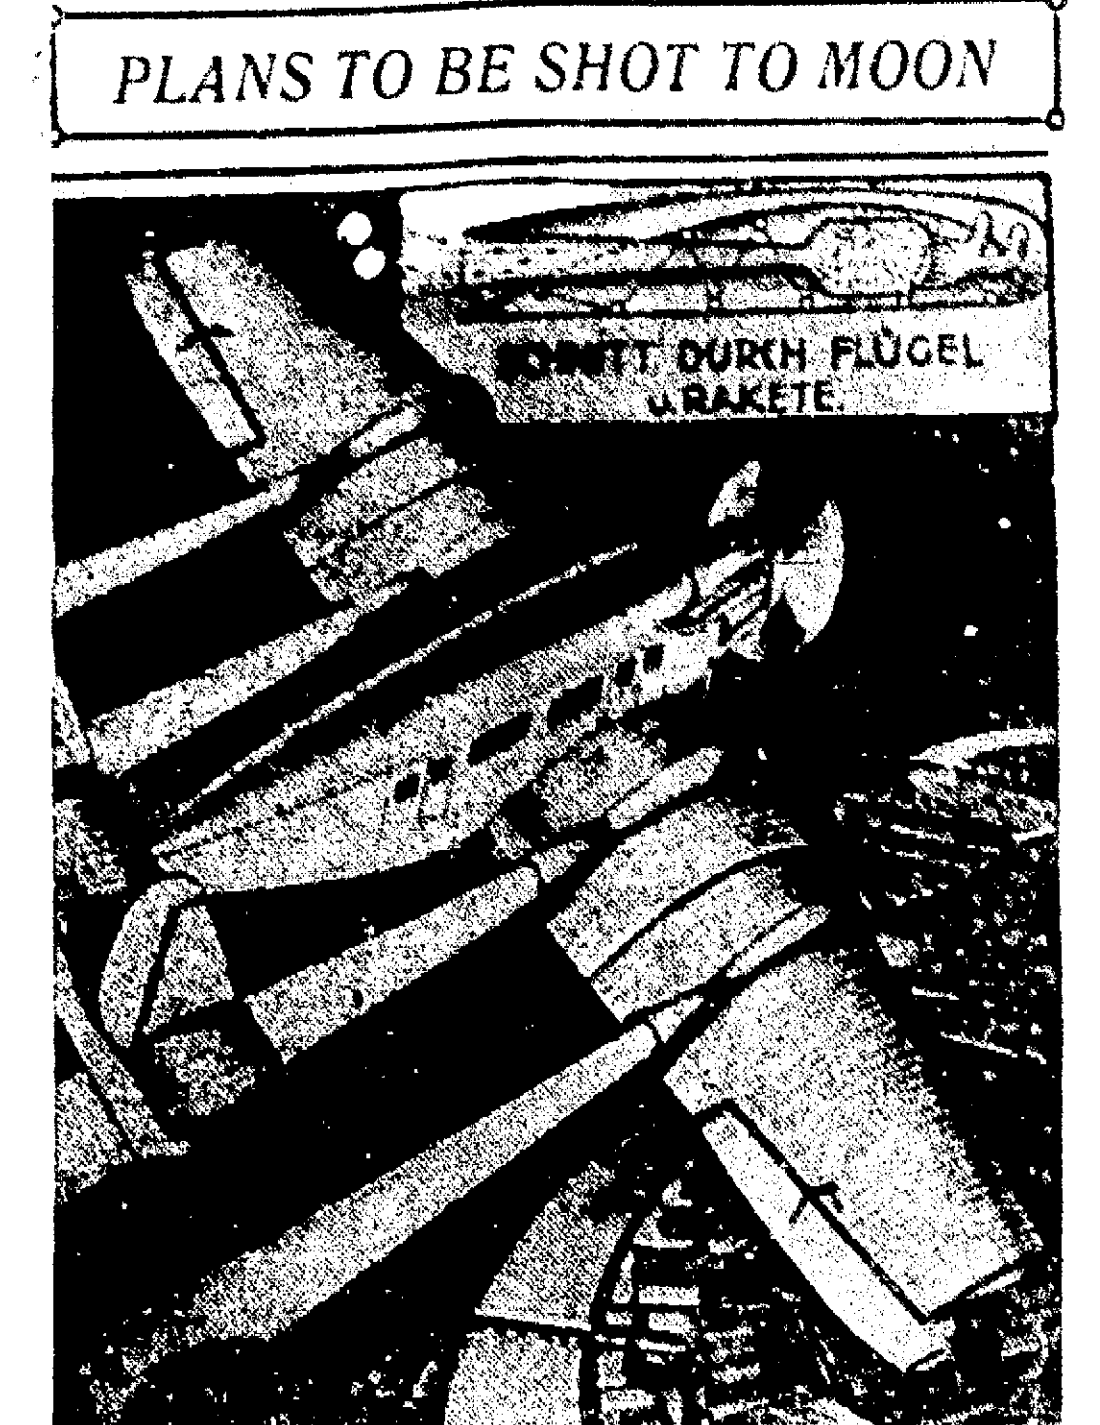

Turner declared.

Neither the workmen's compensation nor the teachers' retirement funds could be used for the purpose of insull, does not look upon himself as a very rich man. He explained, too, why he never became notoriously rich.

"Some people think I am a very rich man," he said. "I am not."

"Are you a poor man?" he was asked.

"Oh, no," he quickly corrected. "I am well to do but I am not fabulously rich."

Then after a pause, he added: "No man can get fabulously rich administering public utilities or great investments for other people if he is on the square. Of course, I could have gotten tremendously rich if I made investments or played the stock market but I was more interested in giving service to the public with my companies and in protecting the investments placed under my management, than in getting rich. And I've been in love with my work."

"I wouldn't trade my life as a reporter for your job," he was told.

Insull frowned.

"I guess you would," he asserted. "You have too many responsibilities."

"True," agreed Insull, "but you must have the ambition to become an executive—to head a great enterprise."

"Perhaps, but you don't get any fun out of life."

"Don't be too sure of that," the utility czar protested, the smile returning. "I've had lots of fun and a wonderful time of it."

Although politics have brought great worries to the Chicagoan, he still loves to participate in the game of government. On his office desk are photographs of the late Roger Sullivan, one of Illinois' greatest political leaders, and of "Pay Day" O'Connor, the grand old master of the British parliament.

"Whenever I go to London," Insull explained, "I spend more time in the house of parliament than anywhere else. I love politics. I mix in it all the time I am abroad."

"Why don't you take a greater interest in politics in Washington?"

"What?" Insull demanded, lifting his hands as though a Chicago gunman had him "recovered."

"What?" he repeated, and there was no smile. "And get into a mess like this again? No, sir, not me. I'm finished with this sort of politics."

HARRY W. HABERMAN IS NAMED CHRYSLER AGENT

Will Retain Sales and Service Station at 152 N. Main-st. Announcement

Harry W. Haberman, who recently severed his connection with the Haberman Chevrolet Co., with which he had been affiliated for more than 12 years, today took over the agency for Chrysler automobiles in Marion County.

Mr. Haberman is one of the oldest automobile dealers in Marion. He started the sales of cars with Newton Davis, former Ford dealer back in 1912 while still associated in the Haberman Hardware store.

In 1915 Mr. Haberman drove away from the Chevrolet factory one of the first few cars manufactured by that concern. The office force of the plant at that time numbered two. He had handled Chevrolet cars ever since that time until the dissolution of the partnership last week.

In recognition of his years in this business, Mr. Haberman has been named a director of the Ohio Auto Motive Dealers' Association and a member of the Ohio Council of the National Auto Dealers' Association.

The new Chrysler line of automobiles was formerly sold by Lyman D. Jones and James E. Chambers.

Mr. Haberman announced today that the building at 152 N. Main-st. will be retained as the Chrysler sales and service station.

SAYS GOVERNMENT WONT DISMISS HIM FROM ARMY

Timmerman, Chaplain of O. S. U. Fraternity, Opposes Compulsory Drill

Columbus, Feb. 26.—"The United States government will never dismiss me as an officer in the reserve officers' training corps merely because I oppose compulsory drill at Ohio State University," declared Capt. Donald Timmerman of the R. O. T. C. at the King Avenue Methodist Church here last night.

Captain Timmerman backed his statement by reading portions of a pamphlet distributed recently by the National Bureau of Army Chaplains. The pamphlet declared: "It is not, and never has been the policy of the war department to interfere with the expressions or actions of reserve officers."

Timmerman was recommended for dismissal by Col. A. M. Shipp, commandant of the R. O. T. C. center at Ohio State, who charged he made "malicious statements against the government." Timmerman is not a student but was chaplain of the Ohio Chapter of the Sea-land and Black, honorary military fraternity.

According to Colonel Shipp, Timmerman declared before a meeting of the optional drill league on the university campus, recently, "I do not believe military training should be compulsory at state universities."

Following this statement, Colonel Shipp recommended to the corps and office at Fort Hayes, here, that Captain Timmerman be dismissed. A committee of four army reserve officers, here, named to investigate the charges.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Chief Jim Reed of Missouri wants to keep the fire well stoked, during the next few months, under the senatorial "slush fund" stove he has had simmering, ever since early last summer, in readiness to serve piping hot when congress meets Dec. 7.

This was one of the reasons for the resolutions authorizing Senator Jim's investigating committee to go ahead with its work after the sixty-ninth congress' expiration in March.

Another reason was that the committee has tired the stews, and flavored and peppered them up, mainly during recess and at odd times, and Senator Jim figures he can turn out a more toothsome job if permitted to give his full undivided attention to it as he'll be able to do between sessions.

BODIES OF FLIERS TO BE SENT BACK TO U. S.

Funeral Services Held at Buenos Ayres; Full Military Honors at Rites

Buenos Ayres, Feb. 26.—With full military honors, funeral services were being held today for Capt. Clinton F. Woolsey and Lieut. John E. Bennett, American army good will fliers who were killed here Saturday in an aerial collision.

Later this afternoon the bodies will be placed on board the liner Vanhan for transportation to the United States for burial.

The funeral services were the occasion for tributes from all Argentina and the diplomatic corps was well represented.

Prior to the funeral services the bodies of the two aviators had been in state in the Military Club, and were almost buried under floral tributes.

Major Herbert Dargus and Lieut. Thompson, who saved their lives in Saturday's crash by jumping from their plane with their parachutes, were among those who paid last tributes to their flying comrades and then turned their thoughts to duty.

The tragedy of Saturday will not delay the flight of the good will fliers. Tomorrow the St. Louis and San Francisco will continue their flight from Buenos Ayres to Asuncion. The San Antonio now in Chile is doing its utmost to catch up and join the flight at the nearest point.

An inquiry is being held into Saturday's accident and a full report will be given to the war department.

The young man pleaded not guilty when taken before Municipal Judge Maron, Saturday, and was released on a $1,000 bond.

PLANS TO BE SHOT TO MOON

A daring young astronomer and airman of Munich, Germany, Max Valier, has made up his mind that he would like to make some exploring trips through space including a visit to the moon. For that purpose he has built the model of a great rocket or plane in which he expects to be shot through space sometime during 1927. He is raising funds for the venture in Europe. The photo shows a drawing of the proposed plane with an inset of the astronomer, Max Valier.

insure, does not look upon himself as a very rich man. He explained, too, why he never became fabulously rich. "Some people think I am a very rich man," he said. "I am not. 'Are you a poor man?' he was asked. "Oh, no," he quickly corrected. "I am well to do but I am not fabulously rich."

Then after a pause, he added: "No man can get fabulously rich administering public utilities. Or great investments for other people if he is on the square. Of course, I can't have gotten tremendously rich if I made investments or played the stock market but I was more interested in giving service to the public with my companies and in protecting the investments placed under my management, than in getting rich. And I've been in love with my work."

"I wouldn't trade my life as a reporter for your job," he was told. Insull frowned. "I guess you would," he asserted. "You have too many responsibilities."

"That," agreed Insull, "but you must have the ambition to become an executive—to head a great enterprise."

"Perhaps, but you don't get any fun out of life."

"Don't be too sure of that," the utility czar protested, the smile returning. "I've had lots of fun and a wonderful time of it."

Although politics have brought great worries to the Chicagoan, he still loves to participate in the game of government. On his office desk are photographs of the late Roger Sullivan, one of Illinois' greatest political leaders, and of "Jay Day" O'Connor, the grand old mentor of the British parliament.

"Whenever I go to London," Insull explained, "I spend more time in the house of parliament than anywhere else. I love politics. I mix in it all the time I am abroad."

"Why don't you take a greater interest in politics in Washington?"

"What?" Insull demanded, lifting his hands as though a Chicago gunman had him "covered."

"What?" he repeated, and there was no smile. "And get into a mess like this again? No, sir, not me. I'm finished with this sort of politics."

LIFTING OF TAX BURDEN AID TO HOUSEHOLDERS

We have been reading a lot about government taxes but we have not read much about the person whose health is taxed to meet the requirements of present day living. To such people I suggest, which I believe is the greatest system today, offers quick relief.

COLORED QUARTET HEARD BY LARGE CONGREGATION

Penitentiary Singers Show Unusual Talent at Wesley M. E. Church

The entire seating capacity of Wesley M. E. Church and much of the standing room was filled Sunday night by an audience which assembled to hear a program given by the Southern Penitentiary Quartet, a group of four colored singers from the Ohio Penitentiary.

The entire time for the Sunday night service was given to the singers, who captivated their hearers with a series of solo, duo and quartet numbers made up of spiritual songs and several southern melodies. The quartet made up of Ohio Penitentiary prisoners, all vocalists of unusual talent.

Singing of "Mother's Boy," by the quartet's senior soloist, was one of the program's outstanding features.

A large congregation heard Rev. O. H. Hanawalt of Delaware give an inspiring sermon on the subject, "The Prisoner's Plea." Sunday morning, Rev. Hanawalt is a graduate of Western Theological Seminary and is now taking post-graduate work at Ohio Western University. He was engaged to succeed as a substitute for the pastor, Dr. J. D. Jennings, who is ill at his home and unable to attend to his pastoral duties at this time.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

Elinor Patterson as the Nun in "The Miracle"

ANOTHER Society girl Miss Elinor Patterson, has chosen a film career. She is the daughter of Joseph M. Patterson, prominent publisher and novelist of Chicago. It was as the Nun in Morris Gest's spectacle, "The Miracle," that Miss Patterson first achieved theatrical success. Her previous experience was with a stock company in Milwaukee.

Universal gave her a five year contract recently although she had no picture experience prior to her screen test. Miss Patterson is 22 years of age and has studied in France, Germany and Switzerland. In private life she is Mrs. Russell S. Colman, Jr.

"Gunga Din," Kipling's famous poem, may be screened by Famous Players-Lasky in India. A great deal of activity has surrounded the plans thus far, but it is understood the picture is to be made with the co-operation of the British and Indian governments and about six months will be spent on the production under the direction of Herbert Brenson.

College Students about to be graduated in June are beginning to cultivate friends among the higher-ups in movie-dom since it has been announced by First National that organization has signed Dwight Duminas, 23, for five years on the sole qualification that he attended the University of California for five years. It will be his job to see that all college pictures are technically correct.

"A Fool's Chance," an original racing story by Byron Morgan, will be Red Grange's second starring picture for F. B. O. Mary Brian will play the feminine lead.

Harry Langdon is to make a film version of "The Butler and the Maid," originally purchased by First National for Ben Lyon.

The only "American" girl in the picture of "The Whirlwind of Youth," does not speak a word of English.

The strange circumstances are brought about through the casting of Vera Voronina, Russian actress in the part of "Cornelia Evans." The film is based on the novel, "Soundings," by A. Hamilton Gibbs.

Mrs. Scott said she married Scott in 1903 in Toronto and after a few months he left her and went south. She said that all subsequent efforts to locate him proved futile.

89TH CONGRESS TO BE CLOSED AT NOON FRIDAY

No More Major Legislation Likely To Be Enacted This Week, Is Belief

Washington, Feb. 28.—The 89th congress entered its final week today with its law-making record practically closed.

The congress will die at noon next Friday with the final enactment of a radio control bill, passage of the new branch banking act, the vetoed farm relief measure and a dozen appropriations bills as its principal legislative achievements.

Unless political miracles occur, administration leaders admitted there will be no other major legislation enacted during the four remaining days. The lone chance for any measure of national interest becoming a law, they said, lay in its enactment by unanimous consent.

Congress found itself in the jammed condition chiefly because of the eight-day filibuster against the Boulder Dam Bill. The measure remained before the senate but its displacement was a matter only of hours.

Two petitions, asking closure to ward off filibusters, were pending in the senate today. They were sponsored by advocates of the New Public Buildings Bill and the Andrews Transportation Reorganization Bill. Approval indicated that closure would be refused on both measures.

Caught in the legislative jam and facing defeat were a score of important bills. They ranged from prohibition measures, such as the Andrews "undercover agents" bill and the administration's medicinal liquor bill, to Muscle Shoals legislation and a half dozen resolutions suspending new senatorial inquiries.

Administration leaders expected the final week to be devoted to considerable politics. One subject which faces certain debate will involve President Coolidge's reported aspirations for a third term. The La Follette resolution, declaring against a third term for any president was pending and will provoke considerable debate whenever it gets a hearing.

The administration, however, were determined to block a vote on it to save the president's embarrassment.

Probes Continue
The political campaign investigations also have a place on the closing program. The senate is due to take final action on the reorganization of Senator-Designate Frank L. Smith, Republican of Illinois, and Arthur H. Gould, Republican of Maine, but may postpone both cases until next December.

There will also be the matter of passing upon contempt citations against Samuel Insull of Chicago, Daniel P. Schaefer, his attorney, and Thomas W. Cunningham, a Philadelphia court clerk, who denied the Reed committee. And lastly the Reed committee will seek extension of its powers throughout the coming recess.

All there will be highly controversial matters and all will tend, if considered, to block action on legislation in the closing hours of the sixty-ninth congress.

County School Basketball Championships Decided

NEW DOVER WINS UNION COUNTY CAGE TOURNEY

Magnetic Springs Boys Downed in Finals; Raymond Girls Victorious

Macysville, Feb. 23.—New Dover, holders of the Union County championship title last year and runner-up the year before, again took first honors Saturday night, when they defeated Magnetic Springs in an exciting game which brought to a close one of the most successful basketball tournaments ever held in Union County. The title in the girls' division went to the Raymond girls, when they defeated the New California girls in lopsided game in the finals.

The trophy was in a race of excitement when the two boys teams, New Dover and Magnetic Springs, appeared to play for championship title in the finals. New Dover and Magnetic Springs on the right to contest in the final game of the tournament by defeating Byhalia and Watkins respectively in the semifinals.

Both teams went into the fray with determination to win. New Dover thought to have a walk away by the fans present, could do little at the beginning of the first quarter and were held to a single basket until the close of the quarter which ended 6 to 2 in favor of New Dover. The latter by a number of lucky shots were able to increase their lead to 14 to 0 by the end of the half.

Magnetic sprung a surprise during the last half which with a little more time might have netted them the title. Instead of giving Dover a walk away, as was expected by many spectators, Magnetic offered Dover some stiff opposition and held their own in the third quarter.

It was the fourth quarter that sent the creepers down the backs of the Dover supporters and gave the Magnetic crowd new hope of winning the trophy now almost in their grasp. Keeping up a good steady game the boys from the health resort crept up on New Dover until they were within three points of their lead, before the quarter was half over. They were held by the latter who were able to carry out more point, the game ending with the score standing 25 to 24.

This victory makes New Dover the basketball champions of Union County, with the presentation of the silver cup and gives them the right to play in the district tournament at Delaware. Magnetic Springs was awarded a basketball as second prize, will also contest for district honors as runner-up from Union County.

In the girls' finals which were played before the boys' game, Raymond and New California came to the floor in full array to play for the championship title. The Raymond girls had little trouble in disposing of their opponents and won by a score of 17 to 6. Sisker, Lockwood and Johnson starred for the winners and Raueck and Hill for New California.

Games of the morning were between the boys' teams. The first match on the floor was between New Dover and Watkins. The latter was not able to cope with the strong New Dover outfit and lost the game by a 21 to 17 score.

Watkins next met the Milford Central team and gave the fans the first excitement of the day. Both teams kept their score almost at par during the game. The first half ended 9 to 7 in favor of Watkins, who also led by a one-point score, 19 to 18 when the game ended.

Magnetic Victor Two strong contenders for the trophy cup, Magnetic Springs and New California came on the floor next to do battle. It was almost a sure bet that one of the two would play against New Dover in the finals, but it was doubtful whether Magnetic could beat New California. However, the unexpected happened and Magnetic emerged victorious by a 24 to 20 score.

Byhalia and Watkins were the next two teams to be eliminated from the tournament. Byhalia fell before the New Dover champions by a score of 15 to 8 and Watkins went down before the terrific onslaught of the strong Magnetic five, by a 14 to 45 tally. These two games were the semi-finals of the boys' division and were played in the girls' division and were played in the girls' division.

Two girls' matches remained to be played off in the afternoon which were the semi-finals and were to decide the contenders for the final girls' match which was to be played in the evening. The first was between the New California and Magnetic Springs girls and ended in favor of the latter by a score of 6 to 2. Raymond and Richmond were the last to take the floor in the semi-final division. The match proved interesting as was expected by the fans and resulted in a victory for the semi-final division.

York boys were absent from the floor because of an epidemic which struck the school and resulted in their withdrawal from the tournament to prevent the spread of the disease. The school will receive its share of the proceeds the game as if it had taken part Saturday.

No Attempt Being Made to Locate Missing Lightpost

Bucyrus, Feb. 23.—While Bucyrus motorists are becoming accustomed to driving through the traffic at the corner of South Sandusky-ave and Charles-st without the control of the traffic tower which was stolen last week, nothing has been done by officials of the Ohio Sign Post Co. indicating that the post will be rebuilt. It was intimated in some quarters here that should the company attempt to do so an injunction would be sought to prevent it. City officials have no intention of attempting to locate the stolen post, it is said.

The Bucyrus Automobile Club has a suit awaiting assignment in the local Common Pleas Court to compel the Ohio Sign Post Co. to remove all its traffic control advertising posts from local streets. Officials expect that the case of the club will be heard soon, and that the remaining posts at the intersection of Mary-st and N. Sandusky-ave will be ordered removed by the courts. Attorney C. L. ## SESSIONS WILL BE CONDUCTED AT HIGH SCHOOL

Dean Alfred Vivian, Ohio State University, To Address Group

Bucyrus, Feb. 23.—The first Crawford County Institute will be held at Bucyrus High School Tuesday with three interesting sessions one in the morning one in the afternoon and one in the evening. A program of addresses, music and stunts has been arranged for the day. Included among the speakers scheduled for the day are Dean Alfred Vivian of the college of agriculture at Ohio State, Mrs. May H. Munshaw of Middlefield, Fred L. Schoenberger of Columbus, and Mayor Arthur T. Schuler who will give the address of welcome.

Backers of Event

The Institute was arranged by an organization headed by C. H. Snyder, president; Mrs. E. J. Brehman, vice president; G. W. Miller, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. B. B. Barnhart, lady correspondent. An executive committee of fourteen members assisted in the work. E. J. Senger, secretary of the chamber of commerce, had the task of financing the institute.

At least 1,500 farmers and business men are expected to attend the institute.

before the referee could hear the timer's whistle Cardington made another basket, tying the score. An altercation between the timers resulted as the time of blowing the whistle. The basket was allowed, and in the first overtime period each team scored two points. In the second period the Red and Black scored the basket that gave them the game. This was the only incident that occurred to mar the entire tournament.

The game finally ended 21 to 19, with Hull of Cardington and Nichols of Iberia each scoring 17 points.

Edison all but took the measure of Mt. Gilead boys in the last game of the afternoon and the Purple was able to win by the slim margin of 20 to 19. Edison played snappy ball while the Purple was decidedly "up in the air."

It was the hardest fought game of the tournament and weakened Gilead for the finals. Had the present Edison team practiced last year, when they had no chance to make the team, it is likely that the championship cup would not be resting at the other end of the short line.

Mt. Gilead girls easily defeated Chesterville in the afternoon, 20 to 7. Cardington boys tossed with Chesterville boys in the semi-finals and won easily 30 to 8.

Following the last game of the finals, County Supt. W. A. Stage presented the cups and pennants to the champs and the basketballs to the runners up.

CARDINGTON HI BOYS AND GIRLS ARE WINNERS

Mt. Gilead Teams Defeated in Morrow Finals at Levering Hall

Mt. Gilead, Feb. 23.—Cardington High school carried off the honors at the sixth annual Morrow County basketball tournament, the girls retaining county championship, which they won last year, and the boys taking the coveted cup from Mt. Gilead. This is the second time in the six years Cardington has won either championship.

The boys trounced Mt. Gilead 24 to 15 in an exciting game and the girls won 15 to 12.

The final boys' game was a thriller, with the score seussowing back and forth and either team having a chance to win until the last part of the contest when Cardington virtually "got going" and rolled up the score. The Purple worked hard but did not seem to accomplish much. Captain Zolman, Gilead's fighting guard, was a heroic figure in the losing battle. Meeting a superior team, which was outplayed and outlasted but not out-fought, he fought on until the last whistle was blown.

Cardington was making their first shots and Mt. Gilead was not. Their offense was the tale of the girls' finals.

Wieland scored six points, Nichols four and Loren two for the losers. Guards were D. Wagner, Lemley, Rhodbeck and H. Wagner.

For the winners, Meredith made five points, Benedict one, Hardman two and Hull seven. Their guards were Heimlich, Hodge, Click and Davis.

The luster of the girls' championship is, however, somewhat dimmed by the unfortunate incident in the girls' game with Iberia in the semi-finals.

This was the classic contest of the afternoon play. Iberia outplayed Cardington throughout and was leading two points when time was up. However,

Three Teams Place Men in All-County Selections

MICHIGAN AND PURDUE QUINTS BATTLE TONIGHT

To Meet at Ann Arbor for Anticlimax Game in Big Ten

By GENE HOFFMAN
Chicago, Feb. 25.—The conference lead—and possibly the title itself—will be at stake tonight when the race for the Big Ten basketball championship reaches a gripping anticlimax in a clash between Michigan and Purdue.

When the smoke cleared from Saturday night's upheaval, the standing of teams was as near unscrambled as it has been at any time this season. Michigan remains at the top of the pack with a half game lead over Purdue. Indiana is third and Wisconsin and Iowa are tied for fourth place.

Indiana's victory over Wisconsin, 21 to 23, and Iowa's win over Chicago, 25 to 23, helped materially to break up the deadlock of teams that comprised the second-place bracket. In the third game Saturday night, one that has no bearing on the home-stretch race for the title, Northwestern managed to defeat Minnesota, 23 to 25.

If Michigan succeeds in bowling over Purdue tonight, the Wolverines should have easy sailing to the championship flag. That would mean a game and a half lead and only Chicago and Iowa yet to play. Maintaining their present stride, the Wolverines should have little trouble in accounting for those two teams.

But it was Purdue that put the first crimp in Michigan's championship hopes, handing the Wolverines their first defeat of the season two weeks ago at Lafayette. The boiler-makers are not expected to yield tonight without at least making the sparks fly.

Wisconsin plays Illinois at Champaign tonight in the only other conference game this week until Saturday night. On that date five games are scheduled as follows: Michigan at Chicago, Illinois at Wisconsin, Northwestern at Indiana, Iowa at Ohio State and Purdue at Minnesota.

TRAINING CAMP CHATTER

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 25.—The pennant-winning New York Yankees took their first workout of the season this morning. Manager Huggins announced that two practice sessions will be held daily.

Twenty-one players were in evidence, with four others expected to arrive during the day. About the only regular A. W. O. L. was Babe Ruth, the team's big gun.

Sarasota, Fla., Feb. 25.—If Eddie Roush carries his holdout ideas to extremes, John McGraw is planning on Young, Harper and Lehoureau as the Giant outfield. There is some doubt as to whether Young will be in condition to play, however.

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 25.—MOST OF THE REGULAR SENATORS ARRIVED TODAY IN REINFORCEMENT. THE ROOKIE PITCHERS WHO HAVE BEEN ON THE JOB FOR SEVERAL WEEKS. "MUD" RUEL, THE REGULAR CATCHER, IS DUE WEDNESDAY FOR A TALK WITH CLARK GRIFFITH OVER A NEW CONTRACT. RUEL HAS BEEN A HOLDOUT.

Cleaver, Fla., Feb. 25.—The Brooklyn Robins inaugurated the training season today with Pitches McGraw and McWeney, who are holdouts.

Manager Wilbert Robinson planned to hold one practice session daily this week and start intensive training next Monday, when the entire squad will be on hand.

Shreveport, La., Feb. 25.—Ray Schalk, dean of American League catchers, today embarked upon a new phase of his baseball career when he led the vanguard of the White Sox machine out upon the local Texas league ball field for the initial practice for the 1927 pennant campaign. He is now a full-grown big league manager. Schalk announced today's practice would be only a couple of hours, but starting tomorrow the veterans and rookies could expect real work.

AVAILON, CALIF., CALIF., FEB. 25.—BRIGHT AND EARLY TODAY THE CUBS REPORTED FOR DAILY CHORES IN THE LOCAL BASEBALL ORCHARD. ## Green Camp, Prospect and Caledonia Represented on Star's Stellar Cage Crew

E. Furniss of Green Camp and Baird of Caledonia Are Forwards. F. Furniss, Green Camp, Is Center; Robert Whiteamire, Caledonia, and Johnson, Prospect, Are Guards

BY EDDIE SCHOENLEB Sports Editor, The Star.

Probably the two best all-round basketball players to perform on the Star auditorium court Friday night in the championship games of Marion County high schools were Baird of Caledonia, and E. Furniss of Green Camp, both forwards.

These two youths are placed at right and left forwards respectively on the Star's all-county high school basketball team, selected from the four best quintets in the county, which met in the Star auditorium Friday to compete for the county title.

Baird, captain of the Caledonia outfit, displayed more basketball ability than any of his teammates in their respective positions and vied with E. Furniss of Green Camp for first honors in floor work and point-making. Both Furniss and Baird made three points in the contests Friday night.

Here's Star's All-County High School Cage Teams

The following all-county high school basketball teams were selected during the championship games in the Star auditorium, Friday night, the ability of the various players being judged by their performance on the neutral court. These teams are represented on the Star's all-county quintet. Caledonia, Green Camp and Prospect playing men. Green Camp placed four, Caledonia three and Prospect three. Two Martel players are given honorable mention.

First Team	Position	Second Team
Baird (Caledonia)	Forward	Porter (Green Camp)
E. Furniss (Green Camp)	Forward	Houser (Prospect)
F. Furniss (Green Camp)	Center	Lyons (Caledonia)
Bob Whiteamire (Caledonia)	Guard	Ward (Green Camp)
Johnson (Prospect)	Guard	Hawson (Prospect)

as forward. While Furniss had tough luck on shots Friday night, he was aiming at the basket all the time and played a great defensive game. He handled himself like a born basketball man. The two Furnisses have blasted the hopes of many county teams this season.

Robert Whiteamire, one of the Caledonia twins, gains a position as running guard on the first team, and "Fins" Johnson, Prospect center, is placed at back guard.

While Bob Whiteamire makes few baskets, he is nevertheless one of the finest guards in the county. His floor work in the championship battle Friday was excellent and his close guarding had much to do with the low score of the game.

Johnson, Prospect, who stands six feet three inches in height, is a great back guard. He plays center on the Prospect outfit but after getting the tip-off, drops back under the opponents' basket to complete his duties. Only once Friday night did he get past mid-court. Early in the season, Coach Brown played Johnson under the Prospect bucket more or less and allowed him to handle the ball from a forward's position. But Johnson is too large and Honorable mention goes to the other Caledonia twin, Richard Whiteamire; two Martel men, R. Burkhardt, forward, and Reed, center; Russel, Prospect, and the final Green Camp man, Bricker, guard.

Railway Service Quintet May Defeat C., D. & M. Crew

A number of basketball fans who are in their attendance at the Marion Industrial League games are of opinion that tonight the C., D. & M. quintet, champions of the league this season, is due for its first fall of the year. The title holders are to meet the Railway Service crew in the second game of the fourteenth round tonight in the Star auditorium.

The C., D. & M. has won 11 consecutive league contests, including the title last Monday by defeating the Marion Industrial League games are of opinion that tonight the C., D. & M. quintet, champions of the league this season, is due for its first fall of the year. The title holders are to meet the Railway Service crew in the second game of the fourteenth round tonight in the Star auditorium.

Only one more round remains after tonight. Next week the six highest teams in percentage meet in the fifteenth and closing round. The Railway Service has its final crack at the league leaders tonight, and, still smarting under the drubbing received from that source six weeks ago in the first meeting of the two teams, hopes to come through with a victory.

The Commercial meet the Marion Business College quintet in the first clash tonight and Osgood and Hubers will end the menu.

While the Commercial are hoped to win handily from the Collegians, we have seen worse upsets this season in case the Collegians do win. They are likely to turn the trick and, should they win and Hubers lose tonight, the Business College would be in sixth place and eligible for the last round.

Osgood, the crew that has smacked the Commercial twice this season, will tonight try their luck with the Hubers outfit. How much luck they will have is unknown but the dope book says that they will win. But upsets are plentiful this season and dope does not always pan out just right.

HARDING VOCATIONALS TROUZE EAGLEBEAKS

The Harding Vocational Preps defeated the Eaglebeaks, 44 to 15, Friday night, on the Harding High gym floor.

Futtle and Howison were the outstanding performers for the Vocationalists and Hardin, Stolz and Zimmer were leaders of the Eaglebeaks.

OAKLAND SCHOOL BEATS GLENWOOD BASKETEERS

Oakland Heights school quintet Friday night defeated the Glenwood school cagers, 12 to 8, in a nip and tuck tussle on the Oakland floor. Miller made eight of the points scored by Oakland and McCarty, accounted for four of the Glenwood markers.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

This was the last day of February, and I got washed and almost skinned yesterday like I always do on Sunday, and Jubilee went to Sunday school with me, and the Lost Bag of Trips was already there when we got there, and when he saw Nibs coming in he didn't stay, and he was dodging around the chairs and women were screaming and Nibs started to climb over the chairs instead of going around, and just as he made a long straddle to step on the one next the Lost Bag of Trips, he jerked it away and Nibs went to his face and the Lost Bag of Trips was out of the door picking them up and putting them down so fast they were almost invisible.

I bet if he had had wings he wouldn't of touched the ground only every block or so, Nibs followed him as far as the steps, but when he saw he was going, and heard the wind split when he went through it, he came back in the Sunday school and picked up the chair, and the super asked him if he wasn't ashamed to have such a violent temper, and he said he was sure ashamed that he didn't have longer legs and faster feet, and the super asked him if he didn't know that if anyone smacked him on the check, he ought to turn the other, and Nibs said nobody had smacked him on the check.

Then he asked the super if anyone smacked him on one cheek if he would turn the other, and he said certainly he would, and Nibs asked him if he was sure, and he said of course he was sure because it was what the Good Book said to do, and all at once Nibs handed him a walloo on one cheek that made what Nibs had had a battle for almost a minute.

The super certainly looked surprised and mad. He picked up the stove poker and then he turned the other cheek to Nibs and said, "Now hit that!" And Nibs said, "I don't want to hit that one. I just wanted to try one of them." The super begged and pleaded with him to hit the other, all the minister came and found out what it was about and sent Nibs home.

"We didn't catch the Lost Bag of Trips today either."

Tonight is the night that March is to come in like a lion. I have had my head out of the window, and Jubilee both, watching for it, but if that is the way a lion comes in it must be a tame one.

Nibs certainly had his nerve.

Daily Bedtime Story

BY HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

One day Uncle Wiggily's wife said to him: "Don't you think we ought to let Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy go?"

"Go? My goodness (go where?) asked Mr. Longears. "If she wants to go to the movies I'll take her and you also."

"No, I don't mean that," explained Mrs. Longears, counting on her paw to make sure all the forty seven little bunnies had gone safely to the Hollow Stump School. "I mean we should let Nurse Jane go away from us."

"Oh, my goodness," cried Mr. Longears, pulling his pink nose until it stretched like a rubber boot. "Whatever would we do without our muskrat lady housekeeper? Before I married you, my dear," and he lovingly kissed his wife, "before I married you, Nurse Jane kept the bungalow for me. And now she helps you keep it for all our forty seven little bunnies, to say nothing of Baby Buntie who makes forty twelve when she comes visiting."

"What would we do without Nurse Jane?" "Oh, I don't mean to let her go forever," said Mrs. Longears. "But give her a sort of vacation. She has worked faithfully for many years, first for you and now for me."

"A good idea! Give Nurse Jane a vacation!" chuckled Uncle Wiggily. "But hush! Here she comes now!" he whispered to his wife. "We'll surprise her by giving her a vacation tomorrow. Say nothing about it now."

So Uncle Wiggily and his wife pretended to be playing tag with the piano when the muskrat lady housekeeper entered the room. Nodding to Mrs. Longears, Nurse Jane held a slip of paper out to Uncle Wiggily.

"What's this, a letter?" asked the bunny gentleman.

"It's a slip of paper with a dozen eggs written on it," squeaked Nurse Jane.

"Oh, so it is!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily, reading the writing. "But what is it for?"

"That's for you to go to the store, if you please, and get a dozen eggs," answered the muskrat lady. "I wrote them on the paper so you wouldn't forget."

"I see," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll hop to the store right away and get the eggs." So he put on his tall silk hat, took his red, white and blue rheumatism crutch, which Nurse Jane had grawled for him out of a corn stalk, and away hopped the bunny. But first he carefully winked one eye at his wife to let her know he had not forgotten about giving Nurse Jane a vacation next day.

Off to the hen store, where he knew he could get eggs, hopped Uncle Wiggily. Mrs. Clus, the hen lady, brought out the eggs, nice and clean white ones, but as she put them on the counter she said:

"I am sorry, Mr. Longears, but I have no paper bag or even a pasteboard box in which to put my eggs. I expect some new bags in very soon, but if you don't want to wait you can put the eggs in your pocket."

"Better than that," laughed the bunny gentleman. "I will put the eggs in my tall silk hat and then I will put the hat on my head. And when I take my hat off the eggs will roll out and I won't forget to give them to Nurse Jane."

Putting the eggs in his hat, which looked like a piece of store pipe, Uncle Wiggily started to hop to his bungalow, wondering what Nurse Jane would do on her vacation, and what she was going to make of the eggs.

Then, all of a sudden, out from behind, a big pile of snow hopped the Bob Cat with a snarl on his unpleasant face and kink in his silly little tail.

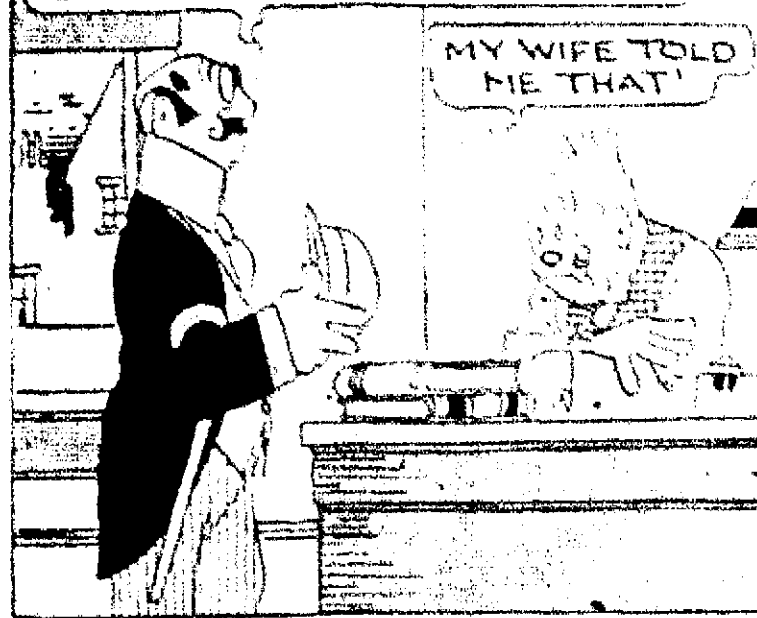

"Wait!" howled the bad chap to the bunny gentleman, "I want to nibble!" But that was as far as he got. For just then, the March Wind, which had come one day early, on the last of February, the March Wind, whistling and howling, quickly blew Uncle Wiggily's hat off his head. The early wind blew the hat straight toward the Bob Cat, flopping it right in his face. And not only did the March Wind blow the hat in the Bob Cat's face, but it blew some of the eggs as well. So that the Bad Chap was all ringed, streaked and speckled with the white and yellows of broken eggs.

"Oh, wow! What has happened?" This must be the end of the world!" yelled the Bob Cat and with eggs dripping all over him he turned and ran away, taking his silly tail with him.

Uncle Wiggily picked up his hat, which wasn't damaged very much, and picked up such eggs as weren't broken. Then he hopped back to the hen lady's coop to buy more.

Don't Risk "Flu" by Neglecting a Cold

If you have a cough or cold, don't neglect it while "flu" germs are in the air. A cough or cold irritates the lining of throat, chest and bronchial tubes, often the lungs themselves, if neglected too long. And it is in these inflamed linings—when a cold has broken down your resistance—that the dreaded "flu" germs are quickest to find a breeding ground.

Don't just dread the "flu." Take measures to prevent it, by getting rid of a threatening cough or cold immediately—before "flu" develops.

By its powerful double action, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral quickly breaks up coughs and colds. With the very first swallow you feel its comforting, healing warmth. Quickly and unflinchingly goes straight to the seat of danger, penetrating through and through the irritated membranes. The soothing, healing powers of this hospital-tested medicine are absorbed by the linings of throat, chest and bronchial tubes just as ink is absorbed by a blotter. This is why Ayer's Cherry Pectoral so quickly stops the cough, breaks up the cold and brings, sure, lasting relief.

If "flu" has developed call your doctor. If it has not developed, but you have a threatening cough or cold, take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once! Keep your throat, bronchial tubes and lungs healthy and strong. At all druggists, 60c, twice as much, $1.00.
